Amarok

Hello everyone. I suppose you think, that nothing much is happening at the moment - ah ha ha ha ha. well, that's what I want to talk to you all about; endings. now, endings normally happening at
End. but as we all know - endings are just beginnings. you know, once these things really get started, it's jolly hard to stop them again. however, as we have all come this far, I think, under the circumstances, the best solution is, that we all keep going.
Let's keep this going inside; never an ending. let's remember, that this world wants fresh beginnings. I feel here, in this country and through out the world; we are crying out for beginnings, beginnings. we never want to hear this word; endings. I know you don't want to sit down. I know you want to do something. of course you're looking for the good start. of course you're looking for a fresh start. isn't that charming. too-te-loo I'm really feel I could dance. ah ha ha ha ha - ah ha ha ha ha. charming. ah ha.
