

Where the Angels Sleep

Bebo Norman

I don't know why I always run
Is it fear of the fall or fear of the touch
I don't know where the angels sleep I don't know how to really love
I've never stood still long enough
And I don't know where the angels sleep But I am alive
Standing strong
I'm no farther forward
Just farther along Hold onto my pride
I'm digging deep
It's pulling me down
And I am no closer to Thee And I don't know where
The angels sleep I don't know how to see You
A friend from before is different somehow
I don't know where the angels sleep And I don't know when I'll love again
But I don't trust myself to just let You in
And I don't know where the angels sleep But I am alive
Standing strong
I'm no farther forward
Just farther along I've held onto my pride
Digging deep
It's pulling me down
I am no closer to Thee And I don't know where
The angels sleep It's taken ten thousand days
To get stuck in my ways
And it offers no grace
I cannot stand this place
With love and my faith
I walk away slowly I don't know where
The angels sleep I don't know where
The angels sleep
