

Visions of the Night

Sting

Gazed into the visions of the night
Seen the darkness fall
I've heard a mountain fall away from sight
Heard the thunder call Seen the beast I call my father
Creature of the night
I feel the creeping darkness close
That (I need) electric light They say the meek shall inherit the Earth
How long will you keep it?
They sow a harvest, but what's it worth?
There's no one left to reap it Gazed into the visions of the night
Seen the darkness fall
I've heard a mountain fall away from sight
Heard the thunder call Seen the beast I call my father
Creature of the night
I feel the creeping darkness close
That (I need) electric light They say the meek shall inherit the Earth
How long will you keep it?
They sow a harvest, but what's it worth?
There's no one left to reap it [Chorus]
Gazed into the visions of the night
Gazed into the visions of the night
Gazed into the visions of the night
Gazed into the visions of the night They say the meek shall inherit the Earth
How long will you keep it?
They sow a harvest, but what's it worth?
There's no one left to reap it [Chorus] I have gazed into the visions of the night
I have gazed into the visions of the night
Gazed into the visions of the night
Gazed into the visions of the night
Gazed into the visions of the night
Gazed into the visions of the night
Gazed into the visions of the night

Songwriters

Sumner, Gordon Matthew Published by

Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>