

All I Really Want

Matt Brouwer

I've been waiting so long
For the right words to come
Just to make you believe I love you All I want is to be honest
And to be honest, I don't know I've been waiting so long
For the right words to say
But there's always a cost
For every line that you cross And all I want is to be honest
To be honest, I don't know
All I really want is to be honest
