

Daniella

The John Butler Trio

You light me up little girl, like the 4th of July
I love you more than every single star man in the sky
You are the best damn thing that ever happened to me
Want to take you home and let's start making family You are a damn fine lady like no other
Want to introduce you to my father and my mother
I'm so damn happy you want to be my lover
Can't wait to get you home and get you under the covers Daniella, be my Cinderella
Won't you come on in around and be my baby
Daniella, don't you remember
Won't, won't you come, hey Daniella, Daniella
Daniella, Daniella I remember the day I asked, your parents for your hand
Nearly knocked them off their feet, they could not hardly stand
The same day I asked you be my wife to be
I said, m-m-marry me I said I promise to love you and treat you right
Give you the proper respect you deserve every day and night
Give you good, good lovin' 'til the morning light
And I promise we will never, ever, ever fight, yeah right yeah Daniella be my Cinderella
Won't you come on in around and be my baby
Daniella, don't you remember
Won't, won't you come, hey Daniella, you light me up little girl, like the 4th of July
I love you more than every single star man in the sky
You are the best damn thing that ever happened to me
Want to take you home and let's start making family You are a damn fine lady like no other
Want to introduce you to my father and my mother
I'm so damn happy you want to be my lover
Can't wait to get you home and get you under the covers Daniella sweet as the sermon
Won't you come on in around and be my baby
Daniella be my Cinderella
Won't, won't you come, hey Daniella, Daniella
Daniella, Daniella Daniella be my Cinderella
Won't you come on in around and be my baby
Daniella, don't you remember
Won't you come, Daniella

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>