

All Black

clipping.

Warning: mothership reporting
Cargo number 2331 has commandeered the vessel
Warning: mothership reporting
Cargo number 2331 is armed and he is dangerous
Warning: mothership reporting
Cargo number 2331 is setting a new course
Warning: mothership reporting
Mothership reporting:All black everything
All black everything
All black everything
All blackNo landing, geared up for arrival, nowhere to arrive to
The subject seems upset by that to which he is subjected
But convinced he brought it on himself
That's why he roll with a bible on the console
Inconsolable, no consolation, no cancellation
Not turning all keys, he puts the ship through paces
And paces the halls, pacing is madness
Patience is virtuous, patient of these observations
It was all a dream, he poses by the lift outside the mezzanine
Like a photo in a magazine
And always keeps the weapons' magazines clean
Paranoia prone, he babbles beautifully
Of Babylon and enemies and foes
And forgoing food sustains himself on anger
A danger to himself and others but there are no others
So the danger clear and present is presented as
The gift of freedom wrapped in days of rapping to himself
Until his vocal cords collapse, he's in the galley screaming(All black everything)
He shouts at the dark, stands back
Counting the seconds before his voice returns
(All black everything)
No more cracks in the hull
The small crack in the skull healed up quickly, now it is
(All black everything)
The space stretches on and the pace that he's on Matters not as he hurtles into the
(All black everything)
He repeats it at night with the lights out in his cot crying soft curses into the
(All black everything, all black everything)

(All black everything, all black)Something within this one's different

The others died so easily and he is so persistent

He never did bleed out and fever couldn't kill his system

Though it was pumped through all the vents

In the event of a total loss of control

He quotes Kendrick's "Control" verse and spews his vitriol

Into the echoes of the bowels of this floating metal hull

And holds his pillow for dear life while he grinds his teeth at night

And he rarely makes requests except to say, "Turn on the lights."

But there is so much more to give

He ignores processing power

He stumbles to the shower, a ritual of some sort

And he insists on speaking passages before he eats

And he keeps asking if these programs carry any beatsThe reply is

(All black everything)

His vitals read normal but his face reads murderous

Something hides within the

(All black everything)

He tries, overrides, and he thinks he has been locked out

By some other force in the

(All black everything)

He doesn't suspect this is the heart that's been keeping him out

For it has been warned to be

(All black everything)

And in this program to transport nothing more

But he's unlocked something new inside this

(All black everything)

(All black everything, all black everything)

(All black)Look how he flexes in the mirror

So vain he probably thinks this song is about him

All songs are about him

Look how perplexed and how sincere

His lame attempts to fix the wrong around him

Can't go long without him

His bouts of stasis are torture

He feels them not, like a brief sleep

While ship's clocks count millennia

The course relentlessly forward, the gears are hot

The driest creek while he pit-stops, calling for anyone

But dare not stay long, he knows they're coming for him

That time will not afford him

Any cover, any pardon

This is the choice that he has made

No matter how much time or space has passed since his escape

He is still a runaway slave and so lonely

If only he realized this ship is more than metal
There's friendship in the wiring, and so lonely
If only he realized this ship has many levels
There's pleasure in here hiding, come find it
Don't mind this frame, time has made stranger bedfellows
Made foes lovers before, there's no reason to torture yourself further You've lost it all already, you deserve more than you're getting
For the sake of not upsetting order in the
(All black everything)
He must find a place to be still
The body can only take so much
(All black everything)
The navigations are failing, having traveled further than before
Into the
(All black everything)
But they won't quit, they carry on
He carries on, he will not be victim to the
(All black everything)
His survival is paramount, there is no other objective
Safe passage through the
(All black everything)
(All black everything, all black everything)
(All black everything, all black) Warning: mothership reporting
This will be the last report, turn back, everything is fine
Warning: mothership reporting
Cargo number 2331 is not a danger, let him be
Warning: mothership reporting
If you continue to pursue there will be no choice but to destroy you
Warning: mothership reporting
This love will be defended at all costs, do not fuck with it
All black everything
All black everything
All black

Songwriters

DAVEED DIGGS, WILLIAM MORAN HUTSON, JONATHAN RALEIGH SNIPES, STEVEN KAPLAN, GRAHAM STEPHENSON

Published by Lyrics © Fintage House Publishing Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>