

Still A Woman

Mya

I don't really mind takin' out all of the trash
If I gotta change the tire outside in the pourin' rain
Nothin' but a thang, I'm gonna, gonna provide
Go and get that bread bring it home, do what I gotta
And I never think twice about it, no
'Cause I'm a trooper, your rider
When you need me to
Steady grindin' out, gettin' dirty
Ain't scared to break a nail or two
Always on the hustle tryin' to get it
Do what a man would do
But sometimes I gotta remind myself
I'm still a woman
Still need a little love, still need a man's touch
As sensitive enough to make me feel like a woman
Sometimes I need a shoulder, someone to take me over
Maybe stop and smell the roses 'cause I'm still a woman
And I wouldn't have it any other way
Put on a smile every single time
I be goin' through some drama
Brush it off then I head to the gym
Hit on a bag for about an hour
They see these lips, these hips, these lies
Under estimating you from the jump
That's why I never let 'em see me cry
'Cause I'm a trooper, your rider
When you need me to
Steady grindin' out, gettin' dirty
Ain't scared to break a nail or two
Always on the hustle tryin' to get it
Do what a man would do
But sometimes I gotta remind myself
I'm still a woman
Still need a little love, still need a man's touch
As sensitive enough to make me feel like a woman
Sometimes I need a shoulder, someone to take me over
Maybe stop and smell the roses 'cause I'm still a woman
And I wouldn't have it any other way, no, no, no
And I wouldn't have it any other way, no, no

Maybe I'm just like my mother
She never takes out the time for herself only for others
Maybe I deserve a bubble bath
A day at the spa, get a massage and a mud bath
I'm still a woman
Still need a little love, still need a man's touch
As sensitive enough to make me feel like a woman
Sometimes I need a shoulder, someone to take me over
Maybe stop and smell the roses 'cause I'm still a woman
I'm still a woman
Still need a little love, still need a man's touch
As sensitive enough to make me feel like a woman
Sometimes I need a shoulder, someone to take me over
Maybe stop and smell the roses 'cause I'm still a woman
Woman, that's what I am, that's what I am
