Glasshead

Rexxy

And it's you all the time
How could I tell a lie
Can't you feel it in the air
Don't believe me, that is you
And you come to me about those things
That you are always telling me
And I can finally find the words
To your smile, to your smileAnd it's new what you do
I don't mind, its alright
Can't you feel it, like I do
And I know that it's you
And you come to me about those things
that you are always telling me
And I can finally find the words
To your smile, to your smileWhen we are together, all I feel is Like i'm made of glass, out of glass
