

Sweet Release

Billy Squier

Destiny's a road we ride
Sight unseen, our thoughts untried
Through the years, a million miles
A trial of errors, a life of trials
There's a sign along the highway
There's a candle by my bed
There's a face in the doorway
There's a price on my head
Sweet release, come in peace
Sweet release, won't you carry me on?
Sweet release, my falls increase
Sweet release, I'm not that strong
Sex machine will break you down
Strip you clean and take your crown
Wasted nights rise and fall
One-way lights, they hide it all
Now I stand before the mirror
Hold the candle to my face
I can feel the scars burnin'
But they don't leave a trace
Sweet release, rest in peace
Sweet release, I toss and turn
Sweet release, come and teach me
Sweet release, we never learn
Black and white is black and red
None are right but some are dead
Through every life the war drags on
Our hopes and dreams lie ripped and torn
Sweet release, give us peace
Sweet release, won't you carry me on?
Sweet release, will it never cease?
Sweet release, can't you see I'm not that strong?
