

Poison in My Veins

Bayside

The night skys black and I'm awake lying on the ground
The grass beneath my feet is hard and cold just like I've come to be
The stars are gone behind the clouds and I can't see a thing
So I'll just let my eyes stay closed just like me, I can't open up Cause I'm all wrong and I don't see a chance to fix this head
So just give up. Write me off, pretend I don't exist There's something in an empty bed that makes it hard to close your eyes
It can eat at you until they both turn black and blue
And all you want is a reason you should live
Or a way for you to die, a way for you to die Cause I'm all wrong and I don't see a chance to fix this head
So just give up. Write me off, pretend I don't exist The grounds opening up. I'm falling down below
An endless fall into a place that I don't think a child should know
And I'm screaming out a name that could never pass my lips
The poison in my veins that got me through her kiss Cause I'm all wrong and I don't see a chance to fix this head
So just give up. Write me off, pretend I don't exist The grounds opening up. I'm falling down below
An endless fall into a place that I don't think a child should know
And I'm screaming out a name that could never pass my lips
The poison in my veins that got me through her kiss And now I'm too hung up on that to have anything with you,
It's the poison in my veins,
The poison in my veins
The poison in my veins that got me through
