

It's You

The Partridge Family

It's you

It's you Hello baby, yes it's me again and I'm Looking for the rainbow's end it's hidden in your mind
I'll tell you baby, I think I can bring you through
The answer lies within those lonely eyes of opaque blue It's you, it's you
I'll never find another love like you, it's you
I would die if you should leave me
Baby, baby, please believe me And don't you cry
I'm here to dry your tears and
In a while I'll make you smile again
And see it's me Hello baby, yes it's me again once more
Oh I know that we can find the love that we once had before
I'll tell you baby, I can't face another day
And before the sun goes down tonight I've got to hear you say It's you, it's you
I'll never find another love like you, it's you
I would die if you should leave me
Baby, baby, please believe me It's you, it's you
I'll never find another love like you, it's you
I'll never find another love
