

In Memory...

Black Sabbath

No one told me the way I should feel, you left an aching heart
Lost and lonely, the feeling goes on
You were the one friend I had, you gave me so much love
Now the tears remind me you're gone It still haunts me, there's a silence where you used to be
It still haunts me, just an empty space in history
It still haunts me but life must go on
On and on and on It's still haunting me, yeah
It's still haunting me
Haunting me, haunting me, oh
It's still haunting me, oh
