

Unending Waves

Daylight Dies

i have memories
clouded by sorrow
of a time in life
when blood ran though my veinsbut these walls keep closing suffocating
and now i'm trapped beneath the weight of my own lossin the company of my misery
i gasp for air
only to drown
againunending waves of memories life's only gife bestowed to meregret every moment marks
a breaking of my heart
and now i'm left alone with this ghost that i've become for years i've built this monument of pain
i must find a way
to never feel again

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>