Only a Mime

Drab Majesty

they're jealous of your fancy fingernails man ain't you pristine? leather tainted above the ocean blue never have a passage dream i cant talk to your whom to hurt inside i certainly i dont know it's a lonely walk way through the guillotines of dead millenials
never a reason before you cry

to me you're only a mime
(to me you're only a mime)
to me you're only a mime
(and to me you're only a mime)
and to me you're only a mime
(and to me you're only a mime)
and to me you're only a mime
(and to me you're only a mime)
and to me you're only a mime your commom sense was extra sensitive your apology was weak a wondering wait slips from your fingertips your future looks so grim i can't keep my eyes wide open when you mimic my own fears

it's a lonely walk way through the guillotines for all my sad and fears
never a reason before you cry

to me you're only a mime
(to me you're only a mime)
to me you're only a mime
(and to me you're only a mime) cuz me you're only a mime
(and to me you're only a mime)
to me you're only a mime
(and to me you're only a mime)
and to me you're only a mime

(and to me you're only a mime)

Lyrics Submitted by Silent One

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/