Humans

The Scene Aesthetic

Deep, deep inside of your heart
There is a weight that still needs to be lifted.
You cover it up, but the pain never stops.
Sometimes I wish that you would just listen.
Deep, deep inside of yourself
There is a soul starving for some affection.
Been waiting for years and the time passes by -
All you ever wanted was to fit in.
So I wrote you this song.
I hope that you like it
Cause you light up my life,
And I know you can fight this.
You're the most beautiful girl in the world,
And I wanted you to know.
You're constantly waiting for life
To start and fill up the surroundings.
If you only looked right by your side
You'd find that it never had left you.
You've lived through so much
And seen so many things through your eyes,
And I wish you could just see -

If it were up to me I would construct a key to your heart and finally set you free.
So I wrote you this song.
I hope that you like it
Cause you light up my life
And I know you can fight this.
You're the most beautiful girl in the world
And I wanted you to know.
You can call me;
You've got no reason to hide.
You're so lovely;
Built with a beautiful mind.
x3
Built with a beautiful mind x2
So, I wrote you this song.
I hope that you like it
Cause you light up my life,

And I know you can fight this.
You're the most beautiful girl in the world,
And I wanted you to know.
