

This Love

Amy Speace

Sometimes love is not enough
Sometimes time is all you need
Sometimes a little too much makes you a little too sad
Brings you right to your knees Sometimes its just a game
Sometimes it seems a dream
Sometimes its all the same its just the card you choose to play
Depending on the deal This love is real, this love is rare
Thats how I feel you can say what you want
I dont even care
Love can be strange made of paper and steel
This love could change our lives Cause this love is real Sometimes you get too close
In just a few short days
And its just the telephone that keeps your tender heart afloat
When hes so far away Sometimes you hold your tongue
To hide whats in your heart
Sometimes youve got to let him go the one you think you love the most
Though it tears you apart This love is real, this love is rare
Thats how I feel you can talk behind my back I dont even care
Love can be strange frayed at the seams
But this love could change our lives Cause this love is real Love can be strange like a difficult dream
But this love could change our lives Cause this love is real Sometimes love is not enough
Sometimes time is all you need
