

My Life Before Today

House Of Fools

Sooner or later this will fall apart
It takes more than science to save a failing heart
I wanted to keep you and hide you from the sun but no one could reach youYou say I'm a black hole Singularity
    My own supernova
    A blazing blind catastrophe
    And for once I was a star
    A long time before that Somebody's sunBut enough of these pointless noises
    Enough of just counting down
    This is not a test
    If love is not the answer then maybe I misunderstood Oh the question
Oh there must be someway out of thisWe stand in a circlehand in hand in hand
    There's talk of a comet
    Over moon and land
    The sand has run out of the glass
    We stand in a circle
We stand in a lineBut enough of these pointless noises
    Enough of just counting down
    This is not a test
If hope is not the answer then maybe I misunderstood Oh the question
    Because there must be someway
    I want it so so..
There's always somewayWell enough of these final nothings
    There's no time to reconsider
So love was not the answer but maybe I misunderstood the question
    Because it must be somewhere
    I read it somewhere
    There's always someway
