

Reason

Cascada

There's something in your eyes I know I can't resist
Something in the air I don't know why
You were hardly there when I was on my own
There's something about you that makes me cry
Can't I believe?
That your heart still beats for me
Let me receive a sign across my destiny
And I wanna know
Give me your reason for me to believing
Can't you see it in my eyes?
And I need your reason for I'm so breathing

It's the time to say good bye
'Cause deep in my heart I know
There's a reason why I'm not living, why I'm not alone?
So give me your reason for me to believing
Give me your reason, give me your reason
Something in your eyes still takes my breathe away
Something's deep inside, please tell me why
I don't know what I should do to break this spell
How can you made my life fun and now all by?
