Last Man On Earth

Alice Cooper

I don't know why my whole world came crashing down,
I just woke up in lonely town.
I opened up my eyes, and much to my surprise,
Look out, there's heaven that I've found.Don't need to care about tomorrow,
I got no pain, I got no sorrow!I'm the last man on Earth, so tell me what it's worth.
Am I a beggar, or a king?
Got no trouble, got no time, eternity is mine.
I got a whole lot of everything!I can take this town, and just burn it to the ground!
Smash every window that I see.
I can smoke, I can drink, I can swear, and I can drink!
There ain't no one to bother me. No, noDon't need to care about tomorrow,
I got no pain, I got no sorrow!I'm the last man on Earth, so tell me what it's worth.
Am I a beggar, or a king?
Got no trouble, got no time, eternity is mine.
I got a whole lot of everything!It's all mine!There's not a single soul to talk to me,
But that's okay, I never liked them!!I'm the last man on Earth, and I know what it's worth.
I'm not a beggar, I'm a king!
Got no troubles, got no time, and everything is fine!
Coz I'm the King of Everything!!It's all mine! Mine mine mine mine mine mine!
