

Thank You

Spottiswoode & His Enemies

Thank you for this day.
We walked downtown in our heavy coats.
She held my hand and pulled me through the crowds.
I watched her smile as the sun burst through the clouds.

Is there still love in this heart?
Is there still love in this heart?

Thank you for this dream,
How everything feels real.
Waking up pale and shattered in her arms.
Heavy rain bouncing through the bamboo blinds.

Is there still love in this heart?
Is there still love in this heart?

"If I had a message for the Universe",
she asked, "what would it be?"
"If I had a message for the Universe",
she asked, "what would it be?"

Thank you.
Thank you.
Thank you.
Thank you.
Thank you.
