

Hearts Are Still Awake (feat. Jewel)

Blues Traveler

You and I arrive
Same destination always at different times
Our love a passing train I was there all along Hoping that you'd see me
Amazed you could leave me alone
Can any love remain? But our hearts are still awake
Despite the time and spaces
And all the give and take
And loneliness that tests our souls
The ache for you, it lets me know
That I still can't let go
Of the dream that our love could make
'Cause our hearts are still awake oh oh
oh oh I want to walk away
But the strength of your arms around me
Makes me stay
My love can't fade I was a wayward gypsy, never thought you'd miss me
Thought I was alone, but you became my home
And now I know you're afraid But our hearts are still awake
Despite the time and spaces
And all the give and take
And loneliness that tests our souls
The ache for you, it lets me know
That I still can't let go
Of the dream that our love could make
'Cause our hearts are still awake oh oh
oh oh
Hearts are still awake
oh oh
oh oh But there's pain and distraction
That tires at our hope
Don't we deserve to have a little faith? But our hearts are still awake
Despite the time and spaces
And all the give and take
And loneliness that tests our souls
The ache for you, it lets me know
That I still can't let go
Of the dream that our love could make
'Cause our hearts are still awake oh oh

oh oh
Hearts are still awake You and I arrive
At the same destination
But always at a different time.
