

The Kraken

Fisherman'S Death

The tale speaks of a beast at the bottom of the sea below the surface he dwell his breath comes from the depths of hell a famous old tale among those who sail make haste to the shore kraken is now rising from the ocean floor.

a roar we hear, we feel the fear we know now that the kraken is here kraken rises from the deeps awoken from his endless sleep kraken rises from the sea abandon ship, swim and flee

[Refrain 1]

a fisherman's death and greatest fear watch out now for the kraken is here
a fisherman's death and greatest fear ro to shore when the kraken is near bring down fleets, in a wink of an eye his roar makes even the strongest men cry seen your last wave sent to a watery grave sent to Davy Jones as a slave

a roar we hear, we feel the fear
we know now that the kraken is here

kraken rises from the deeps
awoken from his endless sleep

kraken rises from the sea
abandon ship, swim and flee

[Refrain 2]

a fisherman's death and greatest fear
watch out now for the kraken is here
a fisherman's death and greatest fear
ro to shore when the kraken is near

Lyrics submitted by Erik Karlsson.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>