

Back to Myself

Malina

Nothing to recall
What if I just cannot give a name
To what I think there is to blame I'm only freezing it out Castaway too numb to feel Hail or silk or burning steel I'm wounded by wars
 I never really fought Danny says it happens but I would rather say I'm deserving my time to breathe and scream it out And how would anyone expect me here to shout
 "I'm glad myself is back"
 I long to cry out loud
 I've been outside myself
 and frosting in your doubts
But I won't trail along with...Lithium as I wake up Coffee to anaesthetize my shame Doctors make it harder, I'd only smoke it away
 How can I throw it all to waist, that bitter tasteAnd now it's my turn to spread it all about You thought you'd get away with all your lies so proud?
 But I won't trail along It's time to breathe and scream it out
 But the ice is gonna crack.
