

Get A Life

Built To Spill

you can't tell me that you don't know who you are it's there from the start any attempt that you make to escape this it comes with the package useless and unnecessary make up your mind make it up as you go unthink the things in your head make it the truth make it what you already know she said that's not what she said it's just a white that you red you can't be nothing Chris went right over their heads you can't be anything you can't be nothing you can't be anything you can't be nothing you can't be anything you can't be anything you can't be nothing you can't be nothing you can't be anything you can't be anything if you can't be nothing

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>