Primary Colours

Emika

Praise him for his character, has no defects
A shining example, and one to rely on Newest messiah now all rolled, rolled into one
Cover his shoulders in primary colors
In primary colorsBut as he falls asleep
The colored lights will keep
Unwanted vigil over, where he is
He don't know where he isDemands of a million, now everyone needs him
Sycophants send him to the edge of reason
Everyone knows him, he knows himself better
Haunted by alpha, he fears that they'll leave him
In primary colorsBut as he falls asleep
The colored lights will keep
Unwanted vigil over, where he is
He don't know where he is
He don't knowOur pack leader will confront his fears
Though new kings are born, he'll stay on his throne
Riding through town on a chariot high
Glory adorned and immortalized in primary colors
In primary colors
