Beyond the Solar System

Mimes On Rollercoasters

Relaxing under, a big autumn sky
No moon tonight, pitch black, only stars
Pondering who's out there, we cannot be alone
Orphans in a universe thatâ€™s void of other life

Cautiously, I observe our ever changing world
A realist by nature, with an optimistic view
Predictably retreating, back to my comfort zone
We discover nothing, when we stay at home

So let's go, and explore, what's beyond, the solar system
Won't you fly me, far away, out beyond, the solar system

At times I ponder, from northern hemisphere
Constellations, artifacts, compelling evidence
Cryptic clues were left behind, just waiting to be found
Maybe our ancestors, really had it figured out

So many questions, many still remain
Are we just the product of an alien world?
Iâ€™m pretty sure Iâ€™m not the only one who holds this view
Itâ€™s time we leave our planet and discover worlds anew

So let's go, and explore, what's beyond, the solar system
Won't you fly me, far away, out beyond, the solar system

So let's go, and explore, what's beyond, the solar system
Won't you fly me, far away, out beyond, the solar system

Let's go, and explore, what's beyond, the solar system
Won't you fly me, far away, out beyond, the solar system
