Dethrone Tyranny

Gamma Ray

AlrightSomeone is out there, he's watching what I do
From far in the distance, his eyes everywhere
I look around me, there's no one that I see
But still I feel someone controlling my mindSave your breath and run
You can't escape the oneTime has come, the world lies dying
Our faith has gone, our souls are crying
Resurrecting paradise, cry for freedom
Killing pain, a million lies, dethrone tyrannyForces of evil, they never surrender
Sooner or later the dark era comesCrying man on the run
He's searching for freedom but there will be noneTime has come, the world lies dying
Our faith has gone, our souls are crying
Resurrecting paradise, cry for freedom
Killing pain, a million lies, dethrone tyrannyAnd as the world is dying slowly in our hands
We'll ask for reasons until the bitter endWho brings us all the sadness
Who brings us all the fear
Who spreads disease and misery
And steals our destinyA poisoned heart of anger
Sowing the seeds of pain
All see the darkened skyline
And feel the deadly reignTime has come, the world lies dying
Our faith has gone, our souls are crying
Resurrecting paradise, cry for freedom
Killing pain, a million lies, to hell with tyranny
