

The War Is Over

The Sweetest Condition

The sun is rising
The war is over,
but your love left me
a wounded soldier.I took a stance.
You held your ground,
but what is lost
can never be found.
Never be found.It's so easy for you
to forget,
but I feel regret.
I feel regret.When you wake beside me,
you feel peace. ...
But I need release.
I need release!The sun is rising
The war is over,
but your love left me
a wounded soldier.I took a stance.
You held your ground,
but what is lost
can never be found.
Never be found.I can't forget the pastâ€”
the shrapnel from the blast.
Some things can't be undone.
F me for being human!The sun is shining
The war is over,
but your love left me
a wounded soldier.The sun is rising
The war is over,
but your love left me
a wounded soldier.F me for being human.
