

This Darkness

Sirenia

In my darkest dreams, I follow you into the night
In my darkest dreams, I walk with you beyond the light
This darkness on my mind
Always tries to bring me further down
This darkness deep inside
Makes me lose myself time after time
In my darkest hours, I see the world be built devours
In my darkest hours, I see a crumbling tower
This darkness on my mind
Always tries to bring me further down
This darkness deep inside
Makes me lose myself time after time
Makes me lose myself time after time
Makes me lose myself time after time
Feel the pain, it's growing strong
Our hearts been bleeding for so long
There's a light, there's a dream, there's a fire within Fading on into night eternally
Our crumbling walls, I can see them fall
Our bleeding hearts, forever lost in the dark
This darkness on my mind
Always tries to bring me further down
This darkness deep inside
Makes me lose myself time after time
This darkness on my mind
Always tries to bring me further down
This darkness deep inside
Makes me lose myself time after time
