

Round, Round

Belouis Some

Although I try to take you, into my confidence

She said

Although I couldn't love you,

You make it so hard for me.

And while I keep believing you and I could change the worldWe're lost in the shadow,

It's not the love that leaves you blind

Although I couldn't love you,

I have to trust my heart this time

So I keep believing that you and I could change the worldGoing round and round, round again

I'm saying things I really shouldn't say

I'm going round and round again

I guess you matter to me

(Repeat)I know I try to take you into my confidence

I know I couldn't loved you

But I have to take a chance this time

So I keep believing you and I could change the worldGoing round and round, round again

I'm saying things I really shouldn't say

I'm going round and round again

I guess you matter to meDon't wait to, don't wait to,

Don't wait to, don't wait toGoing round and round, round again

I'm saying things I really shouldn't say

I'm going round and round again

I guess you matter to meDon't wait to fall in love,

Don't wait to fall in love with me.Going round and round, round again

I'm saying things I really shouldn't say

I'm going round and round again

I guess you matter to me
