

Little Girl

Casey McQuillen

Little girl
She's turning 5
and she don't know where to start
All she knows is her whole life
She's had dancing in her heart
And as she turns the world
Seems to go away
And everything is nice
She spins and spins
Till she's falling in
To the dreams she has at night

And she says
Wipe that frown off your face
I know it's gonna be ok
The world is just to big I know
But as you spin, let it go

Hey Hey Hey
I'm Ok

Little girl
She's seventeen
And the door slams in her face
Everywhere she goes they say
She don't have what it takes
But she knows she has to try or
All the life will die inside
She spins and spins
Till she's falling in
To the dreams she had
At night

And she says
Wipe that frown off your face
I know it's gonna be ok
The world is just to big I know
But as you spin, let it go

Hey Hey Hey

I'm Ok

Little girl

She's 45

And the world turned out too big

She's really sick

And she don't know

What's happening

Now she dances in the rain

Where tears can always fade away

She spins and spins

Till she's falling in

To the dreams she kept at bay

And she says

Wipe that frown off your face

I know it's gonna be ok

The world is just too big I know

But as you spin, let it go

Hey Hey Hey
