Dataman

Sickening, the things that I see
Can't stop my mind from slowly wandering
Dreamin' again, I think you're with me
But there is where the thinking ends
    Sleep time, no longer
    Looks like it's over
    Took your wrist and cut it open
And now it seems I'm throwing you over the edge
    We had a gift no one had
You never thought I'd be cutting you open again
    Sorry, the pain seems endless
    Lie still, I'll soon be done with you
    Till then, you're left to deal with torture
I'm sure, in time you've gotten used to it
    Constant controller
    Your life is over
I'm takin' pride in my work as you bleed
    Took your wrist and cut it open
And now it seems I'm throwing you over the edge
    We had a gift no one had
You never thought I'd be cutting you open again
    I'm left to deal with my conscience
    Forgive me now
    I have to finish the **** I started
    Not what I wanted
    Took your wrist and cut it open
And now it seems I'm throwing you over the edge
    We had a gift no one had
You never thought I'd be cutting you open again
    Took your wrist and cut it open
And now it seems I'm throwing you over the edge
    We had a gift no one had
You never thought I'd be cutting you open again
