

Beautiful Stranger

Rebecca St. James

Do you see me?
The questions in her eyes
Do you relate to the pain I cant disguise?
Oh, look beyond what you see
The outside is not all there is Wont You tell me now when did I see
You in need of water?
Oh, and tell me now, when did I see You
Hungry on the street? God, I hear You calling out to me
In the voices of the least of these
Calling me to reach beyond my world
To the beautiful stranger, beautiful stranger He does not look like everyone else
Does not fit in anywhere I know
You ask me to be Your hands
And show him now that he is loved Wont You tell me now when did I see
You in need of water?
Oh, and tell me now, when did I see You
Hungry on the street? God, I hear You calling out to me
In the voices of the least of these
Calling me to reach beyond my world Theres beauty that lies deep within Waiting to be discovered
God help me see what You see
The diamond in the stone You in need of water
Tell me now, when did I see You
Hungry on the street? God, I hear You calling out to me
In the voices of the least of these
Calling me to reach beyond my world
To the beautiful stranger, beautiful stranger God, I hear You calling out to me
In the voices of the least of these
Calling me to reach beyond my world
To the beautiful stranger, beautiful stranger

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>