Water

Buckcherry

Itâ€™s getting cold outside,
The leaves, they fall, and the summerâ€™s gone.
Thereâ€™s something in the air, one look inside make you more aware.

And it feels so good to be lying next to you
And it feels so good to be with someone you always knew you will

Weâ€™re getting closer to each other
Got my hands on you
Once we get started you can do to me what I do to you
Clear like water when I connect with you

Downtown in disrepair
There is dissurency everywhere
The sky line is black and blue
The moon is full and the wind blows through

And it feels so good to be lying next to you
And it feels so good to be with someone you always knew you will

Weâ€™re getting closer to each other
Got my hands on you
Once we get started you can do to me what I do to you
The 'cause and effect from all this sex, thereâ€™s nothing we can do
I feel your breath against my neck, my heart comes beating through
Clear like water when I connect with you

When I see your face itâ€™s my escape, wide awake, wide awake
When I touch your skin I let you in, wide awake, wide awake
When I see your face itâ€™s my escape, wide awake, wide awake
When I touch your skin I let you in, wide awake, deep inside of you

And it feels so good to be lying next to you
And it feels so good to be with someone you always knew you will

Weâ€™re getting closer to each other
Got my hands on you
Once we get started you can do to me what I do to you
The 'cause and effect from all this sex, thereâ€™s nothing we can do
I feel your breath against my neck, my heart comes beating through

Clear like water when I connect with you
