

Shingles

Iron Lung

I float above and these wings catch, and your sky holds you so beautiful
And I understand if all this comes falling because my sky already has
 And my head bows, all of this I know
And all of your precious love, you can paint as light as you see
 And you can make reasons for everything
But as long as I dream some things will always be Gun in my mouth, I pray for the sunshine
 Gun in my mouth, I pray for the sunshine
