

Take Tomorrow (One Day at a Time)

Butch Walker

You got lost
For a while.
You've been trying to find a smile.
You got stood up
Then you fell down.
When you needed, there was no one around.
Love the previews and hate the movie.
Scream at the screen "something move me"
Before you start to fade away. Give me all your fear
Throw it all away
And think about the good things
No matter what they say
And we'll take tomorrow, baby (yeah)
One day at a time. You just stare in space.
You found love but it got erased.
On the road with all the stoplights.
And you're too afraid to turn wrong from right.
You ate your soul and it made you fat.
Starve yourself from everything else that
Makes you completely full. Give me all your fear
Throw it all away
And think about the good things
No matter what they say
And we'll take tomorrow, baby (yeah)
One day at a time.
