

Summerholidays Vs. Punkroutine

Refused

I'm tired of losing myself in some Stupid childhood dream of what I could've been Money proves the point, and I'm stuck between Summer holidays and punk routine Well, shoot off a 100 things to remain
More sorry than safe you see
I only get this chance once
And I just can't let it be And I'm still certain that what motivates me
Is more important than any piece of paper could be Well, adjusted and corrupt
All those icons that stole our teenage lust A scenario of our simplicity
A scenario of you and me
A scenario of our simplicity
A scenario of you and me Rather be forgotten, than remembered for giving in Rather be forgotten, than remembered
(Than remembered)
For giving in Rather be forgotten, than remembered for giving in
Rather be forgotten, than remembered
(Than remembered)
For giving in We're all tired of dying
So sick of not trying
Scared that we might fail
We'll accomplish nothing We're all tired of dying
So sick of not trying
Scared that we might fail
We'll accomplish nothing Not even failure
Not even failure
Not even failure
Not even failure Rather be forgotten, than remembered for giving in Rather be forgotten, than remembered
(Than remembered)
For giving in Rather be forgotten, than remembered for giving in
Rather be forgotten, than remembered
(Than remembered)
For giving in Giving in Giving in
Giving in
