

Thank You (Remastered Version)

Bonnie Raitt

Sittin' here thinking, baby, about you
I'm wonderin' how I ever got through my life without you
Days passed me by and left my life somewhere behind
Games I was trying left me old before my time You came into my life almost like you knew
The time was running out I came running home with you
You taught me how to love you
You helped me to believe
You could even love me
I was all you'd ever need Sometimes when you're sleepin'
I wonder if its true
I'm afraid they'll come and take away this precious dream with you
Then you wake and hold me and love me through the night
Then I'll know that somehow everything will be alright Thank you baby, for giving me my life
I love you honey, you've given me my life
Thank you baby, for giving me my life
