Dance Hall Crashers

Woke up this morning and I looked outside.
Just an average day, no new surprise.
Picked up the paper and I read the front page
and what it said just blew me away.
Top of the page and printed in red,
caught my eye and here's what it said -
Something is wrong in the world today.
Work, war, and crime can't walk a straight line.
Out on the dance floor everything's gonna be alright.
Out on the dance floor, Dance Hall, Dance Hall Crashers tonight.
The world's a mess, some people always say.
Well you know their right, but who am I to say.
We keep on living and we take it all in stride
Cause if we worry too much, we'll never stay alive.
Just keep on what you're doing, don't always look back -
What happened then, it's all in the past.
Just live for the moment and do what you will.
We'll keep on playing, cause we know the bill.
Out on the dance floor everything's gonna be alright.
Out on the dance floor, Dance Hall, Dance Hall Crashers tonight.
So if something's wrong in the world today,
Well, that's alright, that's what we say,
Worry about the next day, when it's time has come,
Just get up on your feet now and don't miss this song.
We're all rocking steady, you should try it too.
Don't worry about your image, it's just me and you.
We're here right now, and that's all we care about.
Don't worry about tomorrow, let's go all out!
Out on the dance floor everything's gonna be alright.
Out on the dance floor, Dance Hall, Dance Hall Crashers tonight.
