World Falls Away

Seether

Must be something they're hiding
Must be reasons that no one will dare to tell
Must be something inside me
But I don't think so anymoreIt's hurting again now
And I don't need friends when I have foes like you
It's hurting again now
It's killing me to be here all aloneGo away, it's all the same
There's more for meAs the world falls away and I can't find a reason
As the world turns to gray
It's killing me, unwillingly and I am just the same as youMust be something confided
Must be someway to feel the pain and heal again
Pain and pleasure, inviting
I don't think so anymoreIt's hurting again now
And I don't need pills when I have drugs like you
It's hurting again now
It's killing me to be here all aloneGo away, it's all the same
There's more for meAs the world falls away and I can't find a reason
As the world turns to gray
It's killing me, unwillingly and I am just afraidAs the world falls away and I can't find a reason
As the world turns to gray
You're killing me, unwillingly and I am just the same as youAs youI'm just like you, just not a fool
I'm just like you, just not as cool
I'm just like you, just not a fool
I'm just like youAs the world falls away and I can't find a reason
As the world turns to gray
It's killing me, unwillingly and I am just afraidAs the world falls away and I can't find a reason
As the world turns to gray
You're killing me, unwillingly and I am just the same as youI'm just like you, just not a fool
I'm just like youShut up
