

Where I Can Never Be

Gary Numan

And nothing I say
And nothing I can be
And nothing I do will ever bring you back to me
And all that we love
And all that we hope for
And all that we dreamed is lost and slowly fades away
You are still breathing, so
You are where I can never be
And all that I was
And all that I wanted
And all that I could have been has gone and turns to stone
And I am not here
And I am not real
But I am still calling out your name to guide you home
You are still breathing, so
You are where I can never be
Where I can never be
Sometimes I hear you
Sometimes I see you
Sometimes I feel you
And so I die again
