Unlearning (feat. Sting)

Jo Lawry

Knowledge May be power but some would disagree
The pen may be more mighty but the sword can cut you free
No more dialectic it just can seb away
Dig deep into your body
Hear what it has to say
Come with me to the unlearning
Shed your skin and wishful clean
Let reason die to ritual burning
Forget all you've ever been
Forget all you've ever been
The consciousness you value
The judgement you hold dear
Just vatches in ether
Leaves only love and fear
And if you can surrender
For that lives only love
And ending joins beginning
And under joins above
Come with me to the unlearning
Shed your skin and wishful clean
Let reason die to ritual burning
Forget all you've ever been
Forget all you've ever been

The morning will remind us
Of all we can't forget
But we don't have to remember, not yet

Come with me to the unlearning
Shed your skin and wishful clean
Let reason die to ritual burning
Forget all you've ever been
