

The Devil You Know (Satellite Over Tehran Mix)

Jesus Jones

A life to call our own
That is ours alone
Is as hard as hell to come by these days
Time that I took what's mine, took it now Things aren't what they where, they're what they are
There's no time of our own And the devil you know is the only one
And the devil you know is the only one Is time too fast for us to grasp something of our own?
The ghost of the past has its arms around me
It moves everywhere in all I hear and see And the devil you know is the only one
And the devil you know is the only one Look at you now, look at you then, see how you will be
All of your life belongs to me Things aren't what they where, they're what they are
There's no time of our own And the devil you know is the only one
