

Mosquito

Art Of Trance

You like when we go fast
So my foot's on the brake, used to be my girl
 But now you're just my worst mistake
 You don't see it, not a subtle change
 Makes me laugh, you turned into a cliche
 Every time you told me
 That we'd never say goodbye, was a lie
 You knew what to expect from me
 Just like a hit of ecstasy
 You made me high
 You think I still want you
 After all you put me through
 You think I can't walk away
 And find someone better for me
 Just take your overactive ego
 Shrink it down like a mosquito
Baby, lovin' you was such a chore 'til I got bored

Now I don't think about you anymore
From the first time I saw you naked
 I could see the future
 I knew that my world was shaken
 Lost my innocence then I lost my mind
 Thank God now I see
'Cause with you I must have been blind 'cause
 Every time you told me
 That we'd never say goodbye, was a lie
 Just like a common criminal
 You gave me just the minimal to
 Keep me hanging on inside
Now that I can breathe, I'm done with therapy
 It's your turn to burn, covered up in lies
 And still so full of pride, I hope you choke
 'Cause it's the sex I'll miss the most
