One to Two

Dag Nasty

There are things I'd like to say that I've said too many times before Things I should have done instead of looking for a way to get out You'll never know the sorrow I felt or the hours I've laid awake thinking about just what you said How could you know how I felt?
I never took the time to figure it out or see how the problems arose I tried to blame the two of you I can only blame myself for the pain we felt There are words I should have spoken but I kept my fucking mouth shut instead Words would've made the difference but they always stayed unsaid Why won't you ever see?
Why won't you even see?
It's not just me
