

Little Broken Hearts

Norah Jones

Little broken hearts of the night
Slowly picking up their knives
On their way to the fight
Tonight they want revenge
Beautiful soldiers in their beds
Making love inside their hands
With no chance to defend Tonight could be their end
With the weapons in their hands and their eyes closed as they stand
Can they end it all tonight so easily
Did the darkness of their days
Make them let go off their light
Will they wanna find the way
to make it alright
When the beautiful awake
See the sadness in their eyes
Will they wanna find the way
to make it alright
to make it alright
Only the fallen need to rise
What if lightnin' strikes them twice
Will they give up on their lives and finally defy
Did the darkness of their days
Make them let go off their light
Can they ever find the way
To sleep side by side
When the beautiful awake
See the sadness in their eyes
Will they ever find the way
To sleep side by side
To sleep side by side
To sleep side by side
