

Lucky Ones

The Dunwells

I don't want to forget
What makes me important
In a blink of an eye
Can be lost me mind
I cant break a promise
I really want this
I'm taking your side
Not rushing my life
If all that was left here
Wished all I wanted
There's no need to change the hands of time
We are the lucky ones
We have just what we want
We see just what becomes
We are the lucky ones
We have just what we want
We see just what becomes
Hope Hope can change your mind
Hope can change your life
Open your eyes to save some love for the lucky ones Hope Hope can change your mind
Hope can change your life
Open your eyes to save some love for the lucky ones
All this winding is a constant reminder
Of how I got here What I left behind
I can't slow this down
I need to remember
We are the lucky ones
We have just what we want
We see just what becomes
Hope Hope can change your mind
Hope can change your life
Open your eyes to save some love for the lucky ones Hope Hope can change your mind
Hope can change your life
Open your eyes to save some love for the lucky ones
Out to the woods (We are the lucky ones)
Into the fire (We are the lucky ones)
Out to the woods (We are the lucky ones)
No one gonna pull me up out of the floods
(We are the lucky ones)

In to the riots (We are the lucky ones)
Our backs into the walls (We are the lucky ones)
When there's no other way to escape we will never give up
Hope Hope can change your mind
Hope can change your life
Open your eyes to save some love for the lucky ones Hope, Hope can change your mind
Hope can change your life
Open your eyes
To save some love for the lucky ones
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>