

The One That You Hated

The Early November

Is it my fault
If it was planned and yes, it was Well, then because of me
Your selfishness ruins everything Well, if every moment always counts for something
Then we lost this running around All these settings never change for better
I sent you a place and time
I thought you could use it
To learn how to love your worst despite I sent you down with that kid
The one that you hated
I thought you could raise him
Just like you I can change this I swear
Now that's just the voice of all your fear
No, that's not quite it
I promise I'll fill his tight the best Well, if all your mind power gives solutions like this And all these settings never change for better
I sent you a place and time
I thought you could use it
To learn how to love your worst despite I sent you down with that kid
The one that you hated
I thought you could raise him
Just like you Then bring him back to me
Exactly how you wanted him to be All these settings never made it better
I sent you a place and time
I thought you could use
It to learn how to love your worst despite I sent you down with that kid
The one that you hated
I thought you could raise him
Just like you
