Ray of Sunlight

Hello Sleepwalkers

Picking up a piece of Picking up a piece of a broken dream
I remembered when I
Remembered when I started this endless race(You'll find there's no space to share)
I've been longing for glory
(That's exactly the place to protect)
I've been waiting for a ray of sunlight
Ray of sunlightStopping at a red light
Stopping at a red light, I heard a sound
(I heard a sound)
It's like, overwhelming
Overwhelming number of people
Chasing me in waves(You'll find how much price you've paid)
I've been longing for glory
(You'll find there's nothing you can do)
I've been waiting for a ray of sunlight
Ray of sunlightNo going back(You'll find there's no space to share)
I've been longing for glory
(That's exactly the place to protect)
And yet, I've been waiting for a ray of sunlight
Ray of sunlight
Ray of sunlight
Ray of sunlightAbout to fall
Can't sell my soul
I've been taking another step and another
To go one centimeter farther from here
Just call me a dreamer, or whatever
I'm still taking another whip and another to my broken bare legs to quicken the pace
Climb to a higher and higher place
Where nobody has ever reached
