

Pareidolia

Mantra

From the scars, knowledge is born
Through my fingers, new shapes arise

Deep inside my heart, in my veins
A world is born from my eyes

Seeds from the past grow in my mind
From the source, I carry the stones

Inertia

Time passes, and the choice is mine
To think and create new life

I write down the time aligning the stones along the stars
Revealing the dawn and drawing the cradle of new souls

Where does my power end?
The ants are crawling forever
Building mountains
Last night, they told me the secret

Giant stones
In erection
Toward the sky, toward the sun
Toward the stars

Giant stones
To be seen
From the sky, from the sun
From the stars
